The Financial Analysts Journal could not function without the commitment and hard work of our referees. They provide not only the information needed for publication decisions but also valuable critiques for authors.

For many reviews, we rely on members of the Advisory Council and Editorial Board, but they alone can not manage the volume of work. Therefore, we call on a substantial group of dedicated friends of the FAJ. We offer our sincerest thanks to the following friends who served as referees in 2005:
